To whom it may concern

The Midrand Community Policing Forum and the Midrand South African Police Service are in need of your assistance.

Over the last few years, 18 of our police officers at the Midrand station have fallen. The Midrand Police would like to have a memorial morning for the fallen officers. Their intention is to host the fallen hero's family members at the offices of Smada technologies on the 3rd October 2015. Tribute will be paid to the officers and thanks will be expressed to the families in the form of entertainment, a meal and a gift so that they are aware that the sacrifice that their loved ones made in the service of the community is acknowledged and appreciated by their colleagues and those of the community that they died serving.

In order to facilitate this tribute, funds need to be raised. Catering, transport for the families that will need to travel to get to the function, and funds for the gifts per family will have to be financed. We would like to make an appeal to the business community in Midrand to assist us to do this. We would appreciate your involvement in making this function a reality. We are aware that in any partnership there is always "give and take". We are asking you to give, knowing that the only return you will be receiving on your investment, is our gratitude. We are asking you to do this for the families because their loved ones gave the most that they could to the community of Midrand – their lives!

Should you be willing to partner with the Midrand Community Policing Forum and assist us in facilitating this function, please contact our Public Relations officer – Tanya Nyce at state1@telkomsa.net

Yours sincerely

Steven Johnstone
